STATISTICAL TRAILBLAZERS

EVENT DESCRIPTION:

The Department of Mathematics and Humanities has conducted an academic activity “Trailblazers in Statistics and Mathematics” for the students of first and second year's. ‘Trailblazers’ is an inspiring word and it means the pioneers in both Statistics and Mathematics like R. A. Fisher, James Bernoulli, Dennis Poisson, Karl Pearson, Who did their greatest research in finding the valuable concepts, Theorems and ultimately they lead to greatest development in the subject.

The students of both Statistics and Mathematics, as part of there curriculum are going through the formulas and concepts given by the pioneers in each semester.

The aim of the programme is to bring awareness not only about the names of the pioneers but also their valuable contribution to the subject.

A total of 14 teams around 26 students comprising of both first and second year students of Statistics and Mathematics have participated and given a nice presentation. Based on their presentation skills and subject except recommendation three teams were selected as winners.
